

FEATURED IN

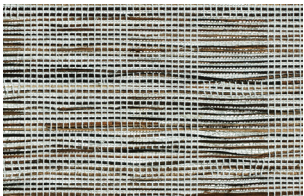

Publication: Galerie

Date: Winter 2022/23

Article: The Artful Home | p92

Product Shown:

LEAM33-66

Stitch – Tortoise

THE ARTFUL HOME

Universal Appeal

Known for rooms that reflect her cinematic eye and passion for collectible design, Alexandra Loew conjures a cozy conservatory fit for reflection and relaxation

PRODUCED BY JACQUELINE TERREBONNE

Alexandra Loew

With offices in New York and Los Angeles, designer Alexandra Loew crisscrosses the country building not just beautiful homes but also incredible collections for her clients. In them, one can detect her early career as a filmmaker, an experience that lends a strong narrative and certain cinematic flair to every space she conceives. "Here, I imagined a winter garden, a room with views onto nature that welcome introspection on cold days and long nights," explains Loew, who co-organized the exhibit "Conversation Pieces: Contemporary Furniture in Dialogue," on view at the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art through June 2023. alexandraleew.com

"I'm captivated by artist Joe Ray's 'Nebula' paintings, a series he's returned to decade after decade. I love how Starburst (Nebula) explores inner space and outer space simultaneously"

ARTWORK: Starburst (Nebula) (2010) by Joe Ray. CLOCKWISE FROM TOP: Japanese laquer table from THE BRUNO EFFECT, elbrunoeffect.com. Josef Hoffmann pendant from WOKA, woka.com. Noble House Vintage rug from SAMAD, samad.com. Bowl #1378 by Jay Kravil from DIANE ROSENSTEIN GALLERY, dianerosestein.com. Jean Prouvé daybed and Eclair Mathesius table from GALERIE 54, galerie54.com. Stitch window treatment by Amy Meier from HARTMANN & FORBES, hartmannforbes.com.